Yes, I understand that Tech Saturdays survives based on the voluntary efforts of everyone involved. I understand that I may be asked to pitch in today (either me or my child) to help with setup or carrying

Yes, I am a resident of Harlem

Yes, I understand that the workshop costs $20 but that the computer is free. If anything is broken, I understand that the only way I can get a replacement is at the next tech Saturday. I am NOT allowed to come to Storefront during the week to seek a replacement of anything.

Yes, I understand that The Children's Storefront and WHI have no responsibility for the upkeep of this free computer. I understand that WHI will help to try to find a way to get me Internet connected but there are no promises and that this will take time. I understand that any calls for tech help go to the WHI phone 866-586-0999, ext 1023 or their e-mail of support@wirelessharlem.org. I understand that the Wireless USB device costs $10 and may or may not solve the Internet issue.

Yes, I understand that Steve Bergen from The Children's Storefront has nothing to do with any fixing or upkeep of the computer or alphasmart and that after today, he will gladly talk to you about the Boston Celtics or New England Patritos but not about your computer or alphasmart!

Yes, I understand that if I need to use a cell phone at the workshop, I will go outside. I understand that no one -- not even my children -- should be sitting with headphones during the workshop.

Yes, I understand that by getting onto the Tech Saturday E-Mail Mailing List is the only way to get invited to the next Tech Saturday and that a family without e-mail should ask a friend or relative to get onto this list by sending a note to sb@cstorefront.org; this is very important!
